Course Description

The thinkLaw elective teaches critical thinking, problem solving, and discussion skills through the use of real court cases. Students will engage in philosophical discussions and work together to draw conclusions or possible outcomes.

Supplies

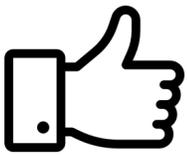

The following tools are recommended to help keep you organized:

- ❖ One three-ring binder. This will be left in the classroom.
- ❖ Pens or Pencils
- ❖ Notebook

Discussion Decorum

Throughout this course, we will be discussing and viewing some very controversial issues. It is expected that students respectfully agree and disagree with one another. I will not tolerate any personal attacks or rude comments between any students. Any breach of this decorum will result in loss of credit for the assignment that day and potentially administrative action.

"Strive for progress not perfection".

Semester Grading

Per North Pointe policy, semester grades will be weighted as follows:

Semester 1 Grade: - First quarter - 40% -- Second quarter - 40% -- Semester 1 Final Exam - 20%
Semester 2 Grade: - Third quarter - 40% - Fourth quarter - 40% -- Semester 2 Final Exam - 20%

Late Work

Assignments are due in class, when called for, and must be complete and legible. This means that even if you turn in your assignment 5 minutes after I have collected the class work, yours is considered late. This also means that if your work is incomplete or not readable, it will not be accepted. Late assignments are reduced 10% per day. If a week passes, the assignment will not be accepted and will be graded as a D.

Tutoring

A student currently below a 60%, will sign an Individualized Academic Plan. This plan is designed for students to commit to specific, problem-solving strategies to improve their grade to at least a C. Failure to report to or refusal to effectively participate in tutoring will be considered insubordination and subject to administrative action. Tutoring is offered from 2:35pm-3:30pm Mondays and Wednesdays.

Grading

Each student will receive a letter grade upon completion of this course. All points, regardless of category (i.e.: exams, classwork, participation), will be weighted equally to the calculation of the course grade with the only exception of the Semester Final Exam worth 20% of the total grade. Students and parents can access course grades using the Online Academic Resource via the Student Grades link on www.northpointeprep.com.

The North Pointe Prep handbook sets our grading scale as follows:

College Prep
A= 90% <
B= 89-80%
C= 79-70%
D= 69-60%
F= 59% >

In the event of a third occurrence, the device will be turned into the 4A or front office and must be picked up by a parent or guardian.

Absent and Make-up Policy

You are allowed 2 days to get any missed assignment turned in for each excused absence. If you are absent for an assignment, quiz or test, you will be expected to turn in the assignment or take the test on your next day back if you knew of the assignment, quiz or test the day before you were absent. Refer to the NPP student handbook for absent work policy.

Distance Learning

While engaging in distance learning it is expected that students participate and act in accordance with the classroom expectations. Zoom instruction time will be used just as if we were face to face in class.

Parent Communication

Parents may contact me using the contact information listed at the top of this syllabus. Email is the best mode of contact. If students are having behavior problems or academic issues, I will contact parents to inform them of the problem and enlist their aid in solving it. If the issue remains unsolved, administration will take over to resolve it.
